I'd intended to do a tribute to Walter Cronkite last week, but I couldn't find the main song I wanted as a video or streamed music online. The second song I wanted to use is still streamable at the FuMP, but doesn't have a video.

Then I thought I might do something ComicCon related since I just got back from that. But then I found this on a friend's LJ and thought it was hilarious. I give you the Poetry of Palin. Because it's not on YouTube I can't embed it here, so just click on the link.
